TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I am a Holocaust survivor, and I would like to share with you my suggestions regarding the Plan of Allocation of the money the Swiss agreed to pay for the Holocaust Victim Assets Litigation.

Now that all the survivors are aging, my suggestion, and that of many other survivors, is as follows:

After the claims are paid of those who are able to prove that their family had money deposited in Swiss banks, a fund should be established with the remaining money for the purpose of paying the cost of each and every survivors nursing-home care when the time comes that they need it. For those survivors who are able to live in an assist living facility, or who could stay in their own home with 24 hour nursing care, those costs would also be paid from the specially established fund.

This would give us survivors some feeling of justice and would make it easier to face our old age. This would be much more dignified for us than paying off the sufferings of the victims of the Holocaust with a few hundred dollars each, and giving hundreds of thousands of dollars to institutions which will only take us if we give them our last penny.

With best regards,

AGNES
